Fardh Wudhu

Wudhu is compulsory for:

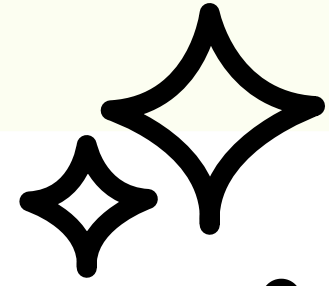

1. Salah
2. Touching the Mushaf
3. Salatul Janazah
4. Performing Sajdah Tilawah
5. Tawaaf (Wajib)

Mustahab Wudhu

- Sleeping in a state of wudhu
- Upon waking up from sleep
- Maintaining continuous wudhu
- After backbiting, slander, or lying, and after committing any sin
- At the time of every prayer
- For reciting the Qur'an verbally
- For reading or narrating Hadith
- For studying Islamic knowledge

Makruh Wudhu

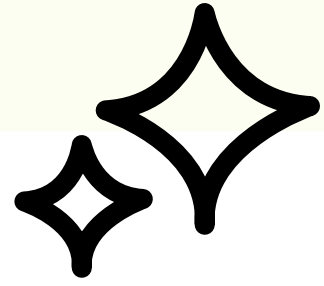

- Doing wudhu in a way that is not sinful but is disliked or not recommended

Making wudhu again while you already have wudhu, before:

Changing your place (same sitting/gathering)

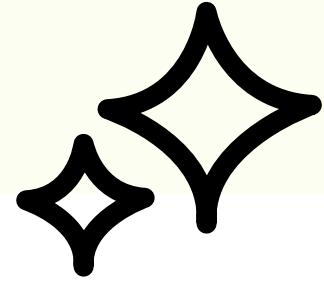

Using that wudhu for an act of worship that requires it

Haraam

- Doing wudhu in a way that uses illegitimate or unlawful water.
- Using stolen or usurped water
Any water taken without the owner's permission.
- Using water that belongs to an orphan unjustly
(Making wudhu with their property without permission.)

Prerequisites for Wudhu Obligation

1- Conditions of obligation (Shurut al-wujub)

These are the conditions that make wudhu required for a person.

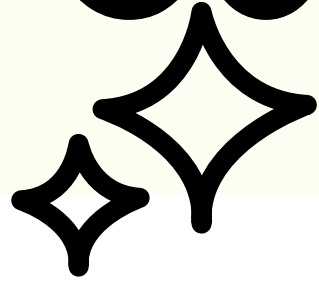

If these conditions are not present, the person is not responsible for doing wudhu yet.

Think of it like:
When do I HAVE to do wudhu?

Prerequisites for Wudhu Obligation

- 1- Aql – sound mind (basis of responsibility).
- 2- Bulugh – reaching maturity.
- 3- Islam – wudhu is not required of a non-Muslim (Hanafi view).
- 4- Access – having enough pure water to wash all limbs once.
- 5- Termination of menstruation, postnatal bleeding, or the state of ritual impurity,
- 6- End of Time of salaah – when the prayer time is nearly ending, wudhu becomes obligatory.

Conditions of Wudhu

2- Conditions of validity (shurut as-sihhah)

These are the conditions that determine whether your wudhu counts after you perform it.

If any of these conditions are broken, the wudhu is invalid even if you tried to do it.

Think of it like:
How do I know my wudhu is valid?

Conditions of validity

1- Complete Washing of Skin

- Water must reach all required areas.
- Even a tiny spot left dry invalidates wudhu.

2- Hadath Must Stop

- Anything that breaks wudhu (blood, urine, hayd, nifas) must have fully ended before starting.

3- Removal of Barriers

- Anything preventing water from reaching the skin: wax, glue, thick cream, nail products, adhesives, etc.
